W.net Launches Career Center for the Advancement of Women in the Electronic Transactions Industry

January 25, 2008 Phoenix, AZ: W.net, the premier association who focuses on the professional and personal growth for women in the electronic transactions industry, announced today the launch of its online Career Center at www.w-net.biz. The W.net Career Center is a valuable forum for the exchange of employment opportunities and qualified female candidates for hire in the electronic transactions industry.

The Career Center will allow anyone to search for jobs free of charge. Companies may post jobs for a nominal fee to gain privileged access to the best and brightest women in the electronic transactions industry. As a benefit of membership, W.net Members will have the ability to search and apply for jobs online as well as post their resume free of charge. The site will also have links to career resources for job seekers.

W.net President Mary Gerdts said, "The Career Center is a phenomenal tool that will greatly assist W.net members in their quest to position themselves for greater professional success. Plus, companies will now have a central location to search for top female candidates or to post job opportunities to garner the brightest female talent in the industry!"

W.net members are CEOs, Presidents, Senior Managers, emerging leaders and women from all levels in the electronic transactions industry. W.net membership spans across all facets of the electronic transactions industry to include: merchant acquiring, card issuing, processors, stored value, loyalty, check and ACH.
