W.net Creates Local Interest Networking Circles (LINC<sup>s</sup>)

February 6, 2008 Phoenix, AZ: In response to overwhelming requests from our members to host W.net meetings locally, W.net announced today the creation of LINC<sup>s</sup> (Local Interest Networking Circles) to extend the reach of W.net meetings around the country. LINC<sup>s</sup> will conduct quarterly W.net networking and educational meetings that will allow for greater participation nationwide. W.net's initial focus will be on the creation of LINC<sup>s</sup> in the following areas: Atlanta, Chicago, Dallas, Denver, Florida, New York, Omaha, Phoenix, and San Francisco.

W.net meetings provide a forum for professional women to inspire and empower one another through networking opportunities with established industry leaders and newcomers alike. LINC<sup>s</sup> will provide that same forum in local areas for women to network with other professional women, share secrets to success, learn new techniques to maximize potential, and establish career contacts.

W.net has also created Super LINC<sup>s</sup>, which are national W.net meetings which will be held in conjunction with other organizations' annual meetings which will allow those attendees to experience the energy and excitement of W.net meetings. The first W.net Super LINC meeting will be held on April 15, 2008 at ETA's Annual Meeting & Expo at the Mandalay Bay in Las Vegas, NV.
